FRIENDS HOLIDAY

Jonathan Kruk: "A Christmas Carol"

Saturday • December 21 • 4 pm • BEHRINGER ROOM

Master Storyteller Jonathan Kruk has regaled metro area audiences with American and British folktales for over thirty years. His venerable Legend of Sleepy Hollow at the Old Dutch Church in Tarrytown remains an annual must-see.

Now, The Friends of the Blauvelt Free Library are bringing the popular raconteur to our side of the river for an evening of humbug with his delightful rendition of Charles Dickens' A Christmas Carol. Jim Keyes sets the musical mood on keyboard and the 19th century ambiance of Judge Cornelius Blauvelt's homestead is a perfect backdrop for this tale of greed, ghosts and the Yuletide redemption of a lost soul.

FREE, but space is very limited and registration required • Refreshments after the show • Part of The Friends' "Season of Carols" to include showings of several movie versions of the Dickens classic and a "Spirit of Christmas Present" Food Drive to benefit People to People

HUMAN RIGHTS

Alice's Ordinary People with filmmaker Craig Dudnick

Sunday • November 3 • 2pm • Orangeburg Library

Join the Mighty 5 Libraries of South Orangetown with videographer Craig Dudnick for a free screening of his inspiring documentary, Alice's Ordinary People.

Alice Tregay was an unsung hero of the civil rights movement, practicing fearless activism for five decades. Her remarkable story of ordinary people effecting extraordinary change spans the seminal period from the marches of Dr. Martin Luther King to the election of Barack Obama. Contributions she made in the field of politics are a thread that connects the two. Craig Dudnick illuminates the atmosphere in Chicago that drew her to the cause, and tells how he came to make the film. Q&A follows.

HEALTH

The Alternative Medicine Chest Rx with Lori Gordon

Tuesday • October 15 • 7pm

Health guru at Organica, a natural foods and supplements store in nearby Northvale, NJ, will give participants the inside scoop on using a wide array of vitamins, supplements, tinctures, teas, salves and homeopathics to treat common, everyday ailments. Discover surefire remedies for bruises, pain, itching, and a myriad of digestive and intestinal issues. Learn what to take to support your immune system and avoid colds and the flu while others around you are suffering. Other topics include insulin resistance, inflammation, anxiety and fatigue. Lori has personally tested hundreds of products in her quest to recommend the ones that produce the best results. You will be able to stock your own all-natural, health-oriented "medicine chest" for every season. Avoid harsh chemicals, household products and medicines that do more harm than good. Protect your children, the elderly, pets and friends. Be the hero of your family. Lori is happy to answer questions throughout the presentation.

CARE ABOUT STRAYS

National
Feral Cat Day

Wednesday • October 16

Feral cats can lead healthy lives via the Trap-Neuter-Return Program of Alley Cat Allies. They are humanely trapped, vaccinated against distemper and rabies, then returned to their colonies, where they help control rodent populations. "Graduates" of the program can be identified by a clipped ear.

For info, to volunteer or to donate, visit facebook.com/CareAboutTheStrays/ or call 845 634-0345 A partner of Alley Cat Allies (alleycat.org)
